

My family and I have enjoyed living without the constant interruptions by telemarketers. Since joining "the list" of numbers that cannot be called, we have not received any calls and we appreciate it very much. Please do not change this policy. I do not enjoy be bothered by (often rude) telemarketers pushing items at us, often during dinner hours or past 8pm, that I will never buy over the phone anyway. It's a disruption that we are happy to have gotten rid of. Thank you.
